

RESTORE SMARTER TO PROTECT LONGER

GacoBase U95 is a two-component urethane maintenance base coat engineered to streamline roof restoration. While specifically designed as a SPF alternative over built-up gravel roofs and cementitious systems, GacoBase can also be used over asphaltic, single-ply, and previously coated substrates—helping you save time, labor, and material costs while delivering the durable protection your projects demand.

Top coat with GacoFlex silicone, aliphatic urethane, or acrylic coatings to complete a high-performance, cool roof system with long-term weatherability and UV resistance. GacoBase U95 works to eliminate the extra steps—without sacrificing performance.
